HONGKONG, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1893 THE Acting Colonial Secretary is ngenu ous gentleman, full of good motives but a little too talkative, and apt, when he talks a great deal, to compromise the side closing the Mails for Ecope, &c., by the he is defending. Becretary, has actually the audicity to speak of the suddenness of the change. He made no attempt to conceal the fact that the vote asked was really a contribution towards the Episcopal Church-was a giving back, by what we are inclined to term a contemptible job, of more than one-half of the money hitherto allowed to the Colonial Chaplain. He did indeed speak of the necessity to provide for the Gaol and Hospital, and he tried to father the vote on to the Secretary of State by saying, or implying, that the latter recognised the necessity. Doubtless such a recognition was obtained; but we cannot believe that Lord Knutsford sanctioned the sum put down in the estimates, for he would thereby be lending himself to a shabby Goods per Glengarry undelivered after piece of trickery the object of which is to half undo the orders he bimself has confirmed. The instructions given by his predecessor distinctly involve the complete Tai On Ship Co., Ld., at No. 25, Praya disestablishment of the Episcopal Church in Hongkong and the maintenance of absolute religious equality. To set aside $2,100 for the special benefit of that church is a direct violation of these instructions in the spirit and in the letter. The plea of providing a chaplain for the Gaol and Hospital is too flimsy to bear examination. The number of European prisoners in the Gaol scarcely ever exceeds a dozen, and as a rule more than half of them are Roman Oatholics. If the statistics had been produced which Dr Ho Kai called for, we are pratty sure they would show that the Roman Catholic 'Chaplain' for his allowance of $720 a year did far more work at the Gaol and the Hospital than the late Colonial Chaplain who was paid more than $4,000 out of the public treasury. The work at the Hospital is shared in by all the clergymen in the Colony. The German pastor, the Minister of the Union Church, and the Seamen's Chaplain, who have given their services as, a labour of love, have been as regular aftenders as the Colonial Chaplain. It ought not to require doles from the public purse to induce min isters of the Gospel to visit, and the suggestion of the necessity by the Acting Colonial Secretary ought to be regarded as an insult by the Episcopal body. Were it not that a grant has been given for many years to the Roman Catholic clergyman, we should recommend that no grant at all be made for a Protestant Chaplain. Under the circumstances, the most that ought to be voted is an annual. sum double that received by the Roman Catholic Chaplain, to be divided equally between the two Protestant denominations in Hongkong.

The episcopalian body has absolutely no claim to any preference in Hongkong. Its adherents are chiefly wealthy officials and do not number a tenth of the small European population. The officials' salaries were raised 35 per cent last year and their demand that religious services should supplied to them gratis, always preposterous, is now both preposterous and impertinent. We are afraid it is impossible to convince narrow-minded men of the stamp of the Acting Colonial Secretary that episcopalisus do not form the Church, all others being non-conformists who may be tolerated but not favoured. He quite willing, this champion of illibera episcopacy, to consider the advisability of giving a small sum to the non-conformist sect, if it is asked for, but this concession must not interface with the big sum that i to be freely granted to what he terms the Church of England. It seem necessary to inform him and the coterie who think like him that there is outside England and Wales no Church of England by law established, The English Church purely English; it is not British. time ago, in some communication from Home, it was stated that when this change was made it would be necessary to provide for the Gaol and Hospital; and of course there being no Colonial Chaplain somebody would have to do the work. The Roman Catholics receive an allowance for this work, and it was thought that a similar port of payment aught to be made for the round to the Gaol and the Hospital and administers comfort, and this amount is for these services. He goes there as Protestant Chaplain.

Hon. Ho Kai-I understand the Church of England minister is not the only minister who goes round, and those who happen to be in the Hospital and the Gaol are not all Churchmen.
